MONTHLY NEWSLETTER July 2025

MIDDLE LEVEL

FROM THE PRINCIPAL'S DESK

Dear Mount Abu Learning Family
Namaste!

As the school springs back to life with the presence of our curious young minds, devoted educators and ever-supportive parents, I'm reminded of a powerful truth — education is not just about filling minds, it's about lighting fires.

What a joy it is to witness our students returning with eyes full of dreams and hearts ready to grow. The corridors are once again echoing with purpose, passion, and possibility. Our children are not just back — they are blooming.

Our educators, are shaping tomorrow's legends and are creating learning experiences that go beyond textbooks — sessions that awaken confidence, fuel creativity, and instill resilience. Because we believe education must not only inform, it must transform.

To our dear parents, your trust and partnership are our greatest strength. In this shared journey, we're not just building scholars — we're nurturing human beings of character, compassion, and courage.

Let us keep reminding ourselves: Every day is a gift. Every learner is a light. And every moment in school is a chance to make magic.

Together, let's continue to rise — as a school, as a family, and as a force for good.

With gratitude and purpose

Dr. Jyoti Arora

Global Citizenship Exchange Visit to Seychelles

The delegation from Mount Abu School received a warm welcome during its Global Citizenship visit to Seychelles. At Perseverance Secondary School, the team was inspired by the school's cultural richness and emphasis on technical education. A taste of Indo-Creole cuisine added to the vibrant exchange. At Beau Vallon Primary School, the presence of Aldabra Giant Tortoises on campus reflected a deep connection with nature. The school's eco-conscious practices and shared climate projects showcased sustainability in action. At Plaisance School, Mahé, renovated with Indian support, students celebrated the Indo-Seychellois friendship through impressive performances. The Ministry of Education, Seychelles fostered meaningful collaboration and global learning.

HONOURING MANDELA'S LEGACY

CELEBRATION OF JUSTICE, UNITY, AND GLOBAL CITIZENSHIP

On NelsonMandelaDay, our GlobalCitizens came together to honour the extraordinary life, legacy, and leadership of Madiba. We were privileged to host Mr. Peter Mahafha, First Secretary (Political), SouthAfrican HighCommission, at a special assembly dedicated to Mandela's timeless ideals of justice, equality, and unity. Through soul-stirring talks, vibrant performances, and thought-provoking discussions, our learners paid tribute to a global icon who continues to inspire generations across the world. Our GlobalCitizenship Curriculum empowers learners to internalise values of empathy, dialogue, peace, and intercultural understanding—values that Mandela stood for. By engaging with global challenges and diverse perspectives, our learners are nurtured as compassionate changemakers who don't just learn about the world, but actively work to make it more just, inclusive, and humane.

'SUGAR SMART' DISPLAY BOARDS

A COLLABORATIVE JOURNEY TOWARDS HEALTHY LIVING

The learners began with discussions and collaborative research on the harmful effects of sugar. Some explored how sugar impacts health, causing issues like memory loss, kidney disease, and weight gain, while others focused on addictive behavior and how to become sugar smart. A few researched healthier alternatives and analyzed sugar content in packaged products. Some even designed a creative and engaging 'Sugar Game' to spread awareness. The activity concluded with the learners taking a pledge to choose health over sugar, and their collective learning was effectively showcased through an informative display board. The display board featured facts, charts, and visuals that captured the essence of their findings.

Learners demonstrated critical thinking, teamwork, and creativity throughout the activity.

Assembly on Guru Purnima Honouring the Guiding Light

The learners of Grades 6 to 8 marked Guru Purnima with reverence and enthusiasm. The assembly featured a meaningful teacher talk and a thoughtful student reflection on the role of gurus in life. A short theatrical act revisiting the story of Dronacharya and Ekalavya added a traditional touch. The highlight was the soulful Guru Vandana and a graceful dance performance that beautifully honored the spirit of gratitude. The School Head, in her address, emphasized that a guru can be anyone—teachers, parents, or even life experiences—who guide us with wisdom, compassion, and purpose. The celebration fostered a deep sense of respect and appreciation among students for their mentors. It was a heartfelt tribute to the guiding lights who shape young minds and inspire lifelong learning.

HARIYALI TEEJ CELEBRATION GROWING GREEN, GROWING RESPONSIBLE

On the occasion of Hariyali Teej, the students engaged in a deeply meaningful and hands-on celebration. The school distributed a variety of saplings like neem and tulsi to each learner, while the students brought along their own ceramic pots to plant them in. This activity wasn't just about greenery—it was about ownership, awareness, and action. Learners explored the uses and benefits of the plants they received, and several students confidently shared facts about medicinal herbs and the importance of trees in maintaining ecological balance. It was heartening to see them work independently: from filling soil and planting, to watering and naming their saplings, they embraced the process with enthusiasm and care. The experience beautifully reinforced environmental sensitivity and self-reliance, making it not only an enjoyable celebration but a learning moment rooted in purpose.
